Living on a commission income is one of the most difficult things in business today. Tuesdays with Money is a fun two hour examination of how to live comfortably and responsibly on any commission income. You will learn how to create a business budget that will propel your business for years to come. The course is taught by financial planner/author/comedian, Peter Dunn. There is no doubt that you will laugh, learn, and take a big step towards a stable income for life.

Each participant will receive lunch, a workbook, and a copy of Peter's first book, What Your Dad Never Taught You about Budgeting.
